

EMPOWERING INDEPENDENCE THROUGH SCHOOL READINESS

JANUARY 2024 EDITION

An education initiative of:

Issue

Children who are not proficient in reading by the end of third grade are four times more likely to drop out of high school than proficient readers.

Solution

Ready for School, Ready to Succeed, United Way of the Capital Region's school readiness initiative strives to improve reading proficiency by preparing children for kindergarten.

Results

75% of participants in kindergarten are proficient in reading versus 50% of their peers not in the program.

53% of participants in first grade are proficient in reading versus 25% of their peers not in the program.

53% of participants in second grade are proficient in reading versus 53% of their peers not in the program.

67% of participants in third grade are proficient in reading versus 58% of their peers not in the program.

55% of participants scored proficient in reading* on the PSSA test versus 44% of their peers not in the program.

* PSSA data is for four reporting districts (Cumberland Valley, Mechanicsburg, Newport and West Perry).

Preparing Children for School

We engage families to prepare children academically and socially for kindergarten by:

- Connecting families to affordable preschool (if available).
- Helping families needing tuition assistance.
- Connecting families with early intervention and support services.
- Holding free education workshops.
- Registering students for kindergarten.

PROGRAM OUTPUTS

928 children enrolled in preschools

45,772 individuals have participated in 3,466 workshops.

918 students were registered on-time for kindergarten.

Through our work with community partners, we work to increase the number of children ready for school, and the reading proficiency of third grade students, which increases their chances of high school graduation.
